13 Injured In Road Mishaps

CAR DEMOLISHED IN LISBON RD. CRASH—These pictures by Lawrence Goddard show the extensive damage to automobiles driven by John A. DiEglio, 39, of Ellwood City, Pa., (at top) and Earl Hose, Jr., 19, of Grafton, W. Va., (bottom car) after they collided on the Lisbon Road, three miles south of Salem, Friday night. Both drivers and two occupants in each vehicle were injured.

4 Hospitalized After Collision On Lisbon Road

Salem Area Man Involved In Mishap Near Youngstown

Thirteen persons were hurt and one was cited in four area traffic mishaps which occurred Friday and this morning.

Six were injured when a south-bound car driven by Earl Hose Jr., 19, of Grafton, W. Va., went out of control at 8:50 p.m. Friday and struck an approaching car driven by John A. DiEglio, 39, of Ellwood City, Pa., on Rt. 45, three miles south of Salem.

Injured in the Hose auto were: the driver, fractured ankle and multiple abrasions of the face; Cecil Lake, 22, of Grafton, lacerations of the face and head; and Donald Arnold, 19, of Cleveland, lacerations and abrasions of the face and head.

The three persons hurt in the DiEglio auto were: the driver, fracture of right knee and right foot; Chris D'Amore, 35, of Ellwood City fractured forearm and foot; and Clara Tammara, 38, of Ellwood City, sprain of the neck.

The injured persons were brought to City Hospital were DiEglio and D'Amore are reported in fair condition and Hose and Lake, in fairly good condition. Arnold and Miss Tammara were treated and dismissed.

Hose will be cited for excessive speed and reckless driving, state highway patrolmen said.

Air Force Meteors Hit Outer Space

U.S.A.F. SHOOTS "GRAPE-SHOT" METEORS—Photograph taken with a Baker-Schmidt camera shows an interrupted artificial meteor which was rocketed into space by an Aerobee rocket Oct. 18 over New Mexico, 12 days after the Russians launched Sputnik I. The meteors, traveling at 40,000 miles an hour were said to be 5,000 times as bright as the Soviet satellites.

Eventually they were believed to have reached the gravitational field of the sun and pulled toward it. The Air Force indicated there were three "grape-shot" like charges which boosted the pellets out of the earth's gravitational pull into inter-planetary space.

Photo below shows the Aerobee rocket leaving the earth to soar 54 miles into the air, the point where the meteors were discharged.

Rocket Soars 54 Miles Up, Fires Pellets

40,000 MPH Speed Recorded In Oct. 14 Successful Test

BEDFORD, Mass. (AP)—Man's first breakthrough into outer space was claimed today by a 30-year-old civilian scientist of the Air Force.

Physicist Maurice Dubin said two fragments of aluminum had been blasted beyond the pull of the earth's gravity. They may now be hitting other planets, or be drawn towards a flaming death in the sun, he said.

The metallic chunks — meteors in reverse—were exploded above the New Mexico desert last Oct. 16. Dubin said an Aerobee rocket had been used to hurl three explosive shells to an altitude of 54 miles.

The explosives, known as "shapel charges," funneled the blast so that aluminum fragments shot out at a velocity of 40,000 miles per hour, about 11 miles a second. This is well above the 25,000 m.p.h.—7 miles per second—velocity needed to escape the earth's gravity.

Dubin is on the staff of the Air Force Cambridge Research Center here in suburban Boston. He said announcement of the breakthrough had been delayed until evidence of special tracking cameras had been analyzed. These, he said, confirmed that at least two fragments of unknown size but probably less than an ounce each had hurtled upwards into space after the mid-air explosion.

The three shaped charges were mounted in the nose of the rocket, Dubin explained. A spring device separated the nose and its explosive from the main rocket at an altitude of 35 miles.

Since the tip had no fins, it lost directional stability and tumbled as it hurtled upwards to the 54-mile point where the charges exploded.

It was pure chance, Dubin said, that one charge was pointing upwards, permitting fragments of its casing to shoot out beyond the grip of gravity.

1st Sputnik's Rocket Section May Soon Descend to Earth

California Fire Still Remains Out of Control

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A wind-purged brush and timber fire that already has crackled and burned through 25,000 acres in the San Gabriel Mountains blazed out of control for the third day today.

The U.S. Forest Service estimated damage so far as 25 million dollars.

Fanned by winds of hurricane force, the blaze broke out Thursday near deer Flat Camp, some 14 miles above the suburban community of Monrovia and Azusa.

In three hours, the fire raged eight miles down the thickly wooded and brush covered slopes, and in six hours it had advanced 12 miles on a four-mile front.

Winds slackened, however, and a Forest Service spokesman said that control is expected tonight or Sunday.

Meanwhile, some 1,400 men, including Indian "hot shots," battled the blaze along a 50-mile perimeter. The specially trained Indian firefighters were brought in from Winslow, Ariz., and Gallup, N.M.

No homes were threatened, but fire trucks and crew were strung out along the foothills to protect communities in case a sudden wind change should whip the flames in their direction.

No one was reported injured, and only an unoccupied cabin and two sheds were burned.

Soldiers at the Nike site at Barley Flats, three miles from the northeast front of the blaze, and at a missile direction center on Mt. Disappointment, five miles west of the fire worked to clear brush from around their positions. Neither site was threatened however.

Main Satellite Expected To Remain Aloft For Weeks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sputnik I's carrier rocket — which has been whirling around the earth since Oct. 4 — may plunge back into the atmosphere at any time.

British scientists said this Friday night. U.S. experts had estimated earlier the rocket would fall about Dec. 11. The main satellite is expected to stay aloft several weeks longer.

There is no way to determine where the rocket will drop, but scientists say parts of the tough metal might survive the flaming descent and hit the earth.

Dr. John S. Rhinehart, assistant director of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory at Cambridge, Mass., said that if the rocket falls on the United States, the laws of probability indicate it would be likely to fall in the northern part of the nation because its path crosses that area more than the southern part.

May Go Any Direction

But, he added, as the rocket drops it might "skitter off in any direction."

Britain's Jodrell Bank radio telescope station notified the Smithsonian Observatory Friday night that the rocket section might

Youth Hurt In Hunting Accident

An 18-year-old Berlin Center youth is in critical condition at Central Clinic from a self-inflicted shotgun wound which occurred accidentally while he was hunting near his home at 7:50 Friday night.

The wounded youth, Florie Delmont Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Florie Delmont Sr., was found after his hunting dog returned to the home covered with blood and whined for attention.

The boy's father followed the dog to the scene of the accident and immediately rushed the boy to the hospital. The youth is suffering from a puncture wound in the right knee and severe shock, hospital attendants said.

It is believed the gun accidentally discharged after it bumped against a log.

Goes Over Embankment

Another mishap occurred when a car driven by James Dean, 18, of Columbiana went out of control, plunged over an embankment and rolled over three times on Rt. 14, six miles east of Columbiana, at 2:45 a.m. today.

Donald Holloway, 16, of Ontario, Calif., a passenger, received a fractured leg and a possible broken back. Dean sustained multiple abrasions of the face.

The injured youths were brought to City Hospital. Holloway's condition is reported fair. Dean was treated and dismissed.

At 2:05 a.m. today on Rt. 165 in New Springfield, a car driven by Thomas Taus, 19, of East Palestine went out of control and struck a tree.

The driver sustained a laceration of the head.

Taus told a patrolman he fell asleep at the wheel. The car was demolished. The driver was cited for unsafe operation.

Acting Supervisor Appointed For Fairmount Home

Morris Birch, a supervisor in the Stark County Welfare Department, was appointed Friday by Stark County commissioners as acting superintendent of the Fairmount Children's Home. Mrs. Birch was named acting matron.

District Man Fined For Writing Obscene Words

LISBON — Alvin L. Johnston, 36, of East Liverpool, was fined $200 and costs by Mayor Wilbur Warren Friday night for writing obscene words on the walls of a restaurant on Rt. 7, south of Rogers.

Probe Minor Mishap

A car driven by John J. Butch, 45, of 1039 E. Pershing St. hit a parked car on E. Pershing St. owned by Maxine M. Britz of Lisbon at 8:50 p.m. Friday.

Butch told police he was blinded by the bright lights of an oncoming car. Minor damages were caused to the autos.

Group Attacks Missile Program

Says Achievement Schedule Inadequate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration was under new pressure today to speed up its missile program as a powerful Senate subcommittee labeled current target dates "far too modest" and inadequate.

Speaking for the Senate Preparedness subcommittee, Chairman Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.), said his group will seek "methods of stepping up the target dates of achievement" at hearings starting Monday.

Johnson, a Senate Democratic leader, spoke to reporters after a committee meeting Friday.

Agreeing with Johnson, Sen. Bridges (R-NH) said he is concerned about the safety of the United States unless it matches Russian developments in the missile field. Bridges nodded in agreement as Johnson told reporters:

Probe State of Defense

"First, we are trying to determine the state of the nation's defenses.

"Second, we are seeking methods of stepping up the target dates of achievement in the missile program."

Meanwhile, members of a House Appropriations subcommittee which explored the missiles situation earlier this week said the United States should order immediate production of an intermediate range ballistic missile. This is a weapon designed to carry a nuclear warhead to targets 1,500 miles distant.

Following a tour of the Army's missile center at Huntsville, Ala., Rep. Mahon (D-Tex.) said Friday either the Army's Jupiter, the Air Force's Thor—or both IRBMs—should be put into production at once. Mahon is chairman of the

Defense Says 'Shooting' Has Meaning

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Defense attorney Ernest Navarro said today the spectacular courtroom "shooting" of his assistant was "not just a theatrical stunt. It will have a bearing on our entire defense."

Navarro, chief counsel for Ralph Forsythe, 42-year-old defendant in the "missing body murder case," pulled out a pistol during Friday's trial session and fired point blank at attorney Joseph DaPore.

DaPore, one of Forsythe's three attorneys, slumped over in his seat as if dead.

But he wasn't. Navarro had fired a blank.

DaPore had been playing the part of Charles Conner, Lima paint company foreman who allegedly was shot dead on his 37th birthday in the kitchen of Forsythe's home here Aug. 10.

On Trial For Murder

Forsythe is on trial for first degree murder though Conner's body has never been found.

Prosecutor Anthony J. Bowers said in opening remarks to the jury Friday that there are three eye-witnesses who saw Forsythe shoot Conner.

The prosecutor identified one witness as Forsythe's wife June. She is not expected to testify for the prosecution, however, because the law does not require a woman to testify against her husband.

One of the other two alleged eye-witnesses, Larue Arrington, took the stand Friday and told of seeing Forsythe shoot Conner from a distance of three feet.

Acting Postmaster Expected to Be Named

An acting postmaster at the Salem Postoffice is expected to be named before any examination is held to determine a selection to the late Lawrence D. Beardmore.

This was disclosed today following a meeting of the local Republican party committee which met Friday night to determine procedures to follow in filling the vacancy.

In the meantime, Assistant Postmaster Ray Reich has been notified by the Postoffice Department to carry on with the duties until such time as an acting postmaster is formally appointed by President Eisenhower and confirmed by the Senate.

Persons interested in filing applications for the postmaster job are advised by the Republican committee to submit them in writing to Miss Elma Auld, party secretary, 606 E. 7th St. Eight men have indicated to the committee that they are interested in the postmastership. The job pays $6,300 annually.

A date for the civil service examination will be set by the Post-

Suspect Evades Police in Denver

Teams of Detectives Rove Through City

DENVER (AP)—The greatest manhunt in Denver's recent history failed again today to flush out Albert Kostal, an armed murder suspect who escaped from jail Thursday night.

Kostal, 37, turned up with a hostage in the downtown business section Friday. He later released the man unharmed.

While nearly 100 police and sheriff's officers searched downtown buildings, the FBI officially entered the case when Kostal was charged in a federal warrant with transporting a stolen car to Denver from Los Angeles Nov. 25, 1956.

Ten detective teams armed with riot guns roved the city on a 24-hour basis. There were roadblocks at every city exit.

Kostal and Arthur Watson, 30, broke out of the Jefferson County Jail in Golden, 13 miles west of Denver. They were awaiting trial on murder charges filed in the fatal shooting last Dec. 9 of Rah Isley, a merchant policeman.

Watson was later captured.

Kostal, described by police as extremely dangerous, was last reported seen shortly after noon Friday, when he released Oliver P. Reed, a utility company personnel manager.

Reed said Kostal forced his way into the businessman's apartment, shaved, drank two pots of coffee and dressed in a shirt, tie, sport coat and hat owned by Reed.

Kostal forced Reed to drive him uptown, police said. He then bought a blue suit from a second-hand clothing store and disappeared.

Police Capture Armed Bandits in Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—Five men armed with shotguns and revolvers robbed a grocery store of $330 early today and exchanged gunfire with police who pursued them in cruisers and afoot.

Three of the robbers were wounded, none seriously. All five were captured.

Wounded were: Emil Brooks, 27; Louis Wiley, 32; and David John Jenkins, 26. St. Vincent Charity Hospital said condition of all three is "fair."

Also held and unwounded are two men police identified as Uary Sells, 25, and Charles Christian, 23.

$1,000 In Musical Instruments Stolen

Over $1,000 worth of musical equipment was taken from a Salem man's parked auto early today, apparently while he was in an East Liverpool restaurant.

Charles Galchick of 1160 Liberty St. and Lloyd Liber of the Lisbon-Ellton Road told East Liverpool police the equipment apparently was stolen from Galchick's unlocked car parked at a service station while they were in a nearby restaurant.

The theft was not discovered, however, until after the pair arrived at Liber's home and started to unload the car. The two immediately returned to East Liverpool and notified officers.

Galchick said the equipment included a 16-string Hawaiian guitar valued at $335, a 95-watt amplifier valued at $260, an electric guitar worth $125, another amplifier valued at $90, and a violin with an electric pickup attachment worth $50.

The total value is $1,069.

Brothers Charged With Auto Theft

Two brothers, Paul and Clarence Fatherly of RD 5, Salem, were confined to city jail in lieu of a $1,000 bond on a charge of auto theft at a preliminary hearing before Mayor Dean B. Cranmer this morning.

Paul, 20, pleaded guilty and Clarence, 18, pleaded not guilty to the charge. They were bound over to the grand jury.

The youths were arrested Thursday afternoon by Wooster police when they attempted to drive away from a service station in the stolen car without paying for gasoline.

The car, owned by Wilford Gamble of Rogers, was stolen while it near the Eljer plant between midnight and 6 a.m. Wednesday.

Bible Words for Today

1 KINGS 18:21 — And Elijah came near to all the people, and said, "How long will you go limping with two different opinions? If the Lord is God, follow him; but if Baal, then follow him." (RSV)

There were three distinct groups on Mount Carmel as these words were spoken. Elijah represented the all-out servant of God who had convictions and made sure that all men knew where he stood. Ahab represented the all-out opponent of God who was squarely against God, trying with all his power to frustrate His plans. The third group was composed of halting and wavering individuals who could not make up their minds, on one side today and on the other tomorrow.

All three groups are in our communities today. The greatest danger to Christ and His work resides in the hands of the wavering and halting ones, not in the power of the agnostic or atheistic opponent of God. Jesus said, "He that is not with me is against me." It is imperative that we take a firm stand for Christ as the clarion call of Elijah is sounded anew.

Choral Service Set By Greenford Choir

A Thanksgiving choral service will be presented Sunday evening at 7:30 by the Greenford High School Choir for the Greenford Community.

Congregations of the New Albany Community Christian, Greenford Christian and Greenford Lutheran churches will attend the program which will be held in the Greenford Lutheran Church.

Mrs. R. J. McMillin will direct the choral group which will present the following program: "Come Ye Thankful People, Come," "Psalm 150," "The Lord's Prayer," "For the Blessings of Our Days," "We Sing The Praise," "We Thank Thee, Lord," and "Alleluia," and "Festival Finale."

Carol Goehring will be the pianist, and John Coy, the reader. Trumpeters will be Iva Shoff, Audrey Hendricks, Nancy Baird.

Rev. Arvid Kuitunen, host pastor, will give the benediction.

Damascus Methodist

Rev. James F. Cope will speak on "The Sower Went Forth" at the 10:15 a.m. worship hour Sunday in the Damascus Methodist Church.

The choir will sing "Thanks Be to God." Rev. Cope and Mrs. Wulf will sing "He that Soweth Little."

"Christian Giving" is the theme of the Sunday School hour.

Youth Fellowship will not meet Sunday, although an open house is scheduled for parents of Church School students.

Paul Ward, superintendent of the Methodist Steubenville district, will preside at a quarterly conference Sunday evening at 7:30. Devotions will precede the meeting.

Millville Friends

Guest Minister Rev. Leslie Burdick, evangelist for a series of meetings, will bring the message at the 11 a.m. worship service Sunday in the Millville Friends Church.

The Sunday School lesson, "Directions for Christian Giving," will be studied during the 9:45 a.m. Sunday School hour.

Youth choir practice will be held at the church at 6 p.m. Sunday, followed by the Junior and Youth Christian Endeavor group meetings at 6:45 p.m.

The closing evangelistic service of the special series will begin at 7:30 p.m. Sunday when Rev. Burdick will speak.

Thanksgiving service will be observed at the mid-week prayer service Wednesday evening at 7:30.

Christian Science

"Man's God-given ability to resist sin, disease and all discord" will be emphasized at the Christian Science worship service at 11 Sunday morning during the lesson-sermon, "Soul and Body."

Selections to be read from Mary Baker Eddy's Science and Health will include: "Rise in the strength of Spirit to resist all that is unlike good. God has made man capable of this, and nothing can vitiate the ability and power divinely bestowed on man."

Sunday School is at 9:30 a.m. The reading room is open Tuesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons from 1:30 to 4.

Bunker Hill Methodist

Rev. Paul M. Ward, superintendent of the Methodist Steubenville district, will be the speaker at the 11 o'clock morning worship service Sunday in the Bunker Hill Methodist Church in Goshen Grange Hall.

Church School is at 10 a.m. The first quarterly conference will be held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday in the Bunker Hill Church parsonage.

Confident Living

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

A Way of Life to Be Thankful For

J. C. Penney is among the most vital men I have ever known. A great merchant, he is one of the fathers of the American chain store. Now, in what is supposed to be retirement, he finds time for a vast array of activities — charitable, religious and civic.

Peale

His system was simple. He gave each of his managers an interest in the store they ran. Then he set them the task of training bright young men to become managers and finding locations in which new stores might be set up. For each successful store the manager "fathered," he received a share in it or a bonus based on its earnings. In this way, many managers earned fortunes far beyond the dreams of the average store proprietor. May of the original "Penny millionaires" are, like J. C. Penney himself, still active and making real contributions to the lives of those around them.

NOT LONG AGO, in the Christian Herald, Mr. Penney attempted to define the American way of life, which has brought him and his associates such success.

"The American way of life is so vital," he wrote, "so much a thing of the spirit, so broad in its aim, so varied in its expression, and its roots are so deeply imbedded in human nature, that a brief definition of it is impossible."

Then he went on to talk about what he calls "the law of natural liberty," which, he said, is best stated in the Virginia Bill of Rights, written by George Mason and Thomas Jefferson and considered the basic source of the Declaration of Independence.

"All men," the Bill reads, "are by nature equally free and independent, and have certain inherent rights, of which, when they enter into a state of society, they cannot by any compact, deprive or divest their posterity; namely the enjoyment of life and liberty, with the means of acquiring and possessing property, and pursuing and obtaining happiness and safety."

NEXT WEEK brings us Thanksgiving Day and one of the things we should remember to be thankful for is the rich heritage that constitutes the American way of life. We cannot properly understand this way of life unless we study the sources, civil and religious, from which it springs.

That is why I am happy to note the publication of a new book by a friend of mine which helps us study these sources of our country's traditions. It is called "America, America, America," and it is a collection of the best writing about our country compiled by Kenneth Seaman Giniger, who has worked closely with me for many years.

It contains inspiring and important statements that have been made about America from the time of the Pilgrims to the present day as well as many of the great documents of American history. It is a book I am sure you will want to read and to own.

I is particularly appropriate that we make our American way of life the thing for which we give thanks first this Thanksgiving. For only as we more deeply appreciate and more closely understand that way of life can we make certain that "his nation, under God . . . shall not perish from the earth."

County Engineers To Meet With Noble

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The long-awaited meeting between highway chief Charles M. Noble and county engineers who think he is spending too much money on the interstate highway program has been scheduled. It will be Wednesday in Noble's State Office Building headquarters.

The Ohio County Engineers Assn. recently adopted a report urging the state to adhere to standards laid down by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads. The local engineers claim that Ohio standards, particularly with regard to overpasses and width of rights-of-way, exceed national standards unnecessarily.

They say the money saved by adhering to national standards could be better spent on other highway projects.

James Wiggins Named Winner of Press Award

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—The University of Arizona announced today that James Russell Wiggins, executive editor of the Washington Post and Times Herald, had been named winner of the 1958 John Peter Zenger Freedom of the Press Award.

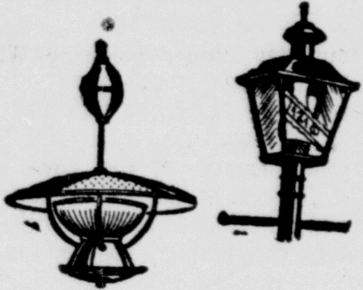

The award will be presented in Phoenix Jan. 25.

Dr. Richard A. Harvill, university president, said Wiggins has served as chairman of the Committee on Freedom of Information of the American Society of Newspaper Editors and has been vigorous in "his fight against the growing secrecy in government."

The journalism department at the University of Arizona inaugurated the award in 1955.

THE FIRST THANKSGIVING

Do you think this turkey will please the Pilgrim Fathers?

Those cranberries have been strung with careful fingers, the bird itself has been roasted to just the proper degree of succulent brownness, and that bit of wheat, lying on the table, symbolizes the rich bounty of this year's harvest.

If our Puritan maid, Priscilla, looks a bit skeptical, it is only because she is wondering if tom turkey will be big enough to satisfy all the hungry guests.

They will be coming with vigorous appetites, whetted by the walk through snow covered fields from Church, where they have given thanks for their good fortune.

And on all Thanksgivings since that first one, thankful people have knelt in prayer. Thanksgiving is our own American holiday, unlike any other. It is deeply religious in nature. We can only observe it if, like the Pilgrims, we go to church to give our thanks. And never have a people had cause to be so thankful for so much.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

How Fast Could U. S. Retaliate If Attacked?

Realism is still rare in Washington in the appraisal of policies that must prevail if America is to defend itself promptly against sudden attack by missiles or nuclear weapons of any kind. For the big issue — when exactly can the order be given for retaliatory action against attack — has never been resolved.

Secretary of State Dulles, answering a question at a news conference at Chicago, said that retaliation from bases abroad would be instantaneous if there were another attack "like Pearl Harbor." But behind that statement are many unanswered questions such as these:

1. While the United States itself is committed to instant retaliation if an attack occurs against any member country of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, is it necessary to get the permission of an allied nation before American forces can fire weapons from overseas bases?
2. If permission must be obtained from local civilian authorities, does this mean that the British or French parliaments, for example, must give their consent, and how long a delay would this occasion while New York or Chicago was being bombed?

Congress a few days later.

BUT THIS IS NOT the kind of set-up which today prevails in the preliminary bodies abroad. No advance authorization has been given by either the British or French parliament to allow American commanders at bases in those countries to use their weapons in retaliation.

The Communists have relied on this gap, and military men here have been uneasy about it, despite assurances from London and Paris that in an emergency of this sort there wouldn't be any question about granting the necessary authority.

It will be noted that Secretary Dulles in his remarks at Chicago says that the forces of the United States stationed abroad are so intermingled with allied forces already—and presumably would be integrated even more under the proposed establishment by NATO of intermediate bases for missiles—that it would be natural for the Americans to retaliate immediately.

The United States government is assuming it can take the retaliatory action anyhow and depend on the good faith of its allies to ratify the steps when once taken.

Up to now, on the other hand, there has been a dependence on the Strategic Air Command in the United States, which it has been supposed would retaliate directly with intercontinental bombers.

THESE TWO POINTS have long been argued, and military men usually have answered positively that there would be no delay. They have been assuming instant cooperation from parliamentary bodies.

In the North Atlantic Treaty, Congress has already authorized the president to use American military forces to resist any attack. The treaty, in effect, says that an attack on any member of NATO is an attack against the United States. Under the Constitution, the president has the power to use the military forces at once to repel any attack against the United States.

By construing the interests of the United States as the same thing as the territory of the United States, Congress, in ratifying the NATO treaty in 1949, consented to the instant exercise of the war power by the executive.

Presumably any military operations thereafter would result in a resolution by Congress ratifying a "state of war."

This happened in the case of Pearl Harbor, when the executive ordered counterattacks and then received confirming authority from

IT WASN'T so important heretofore whether any retaliatory steps were taken first from overseas bases, as it was assumed that, once the intercontinental bombers operating from American soil went into action, all the military forces stationed in Europe, both of the United States and its allies, would be immediately plunged into a state of war anyhow.

With the threat, however, of the intercontinental missile which might come from Russia at a speed of thousands of miles per hour, the United States finds it more than ever necessary to use shorter-range missiles operating from NATO bases overseas.

This opens anew the question of authority to function from such bases. It will not be enough to leave the matter hanging in the air, as in past conferences on the subject, with the vague assurance that the civilian parliaments will act in due time.

Realism requires that this critical issue be faced squarely at the NATO conference to be attended by President Eisenhower in Paris next month.

Separating Students From Sitters

The education council of the Ohio Education Assn. questions the wisdom of forcing all Ohio children to attend school until they are 18 years old. What once may have been an academic discussion now has become an issue approaching the magnitude of a crisis.

The basic purpose of public education in a democracy is to provide the society with a maximum level of literacy among its citizenry and to provide society's members with the educational opportunity to develop their talents for their own — and society's enhancement.

It cannot be denied that, to accomplish the first of these, compulsory attendance is desirable through a grade or age level which gives students at least the basic tools of the three R's and some familiarity with human history and the nature of the world they live in.

It can be argued, however, that in the pursuit of the second there is no wisdom — not even democracy — in forcing students to attend classes beyond that level when they lack ability and interest to profit from them.

This is a day of bulging classrooms, when educators and taxpayers are wearying of the never-ending struggle to provide merely the physical equipment to educate ever-increasing numbers of children. It is likewise a day of serious concern for the quality of the education we dispense, in the face of growing evidence that the future of all free societies may well depend upon the full development and use of individual talents.

Every teacher knows the frustration of trying to force performance out of disinterested students at the expense of talented and eager pupils who need merely guidance to push ahead. Every school administrator knows the discouragement of trying to find ways to build more classrooms when valuable space is being taken up by students who are there only because the law says they must be.

Many a parent has wrestled with the problem of trying to encourage and guide a youth forced to continue going to school when he wants to be and should be working. Every citizen can recognize the folly of wasting any part of America's educational machinery when the nation's very existence may hinge upon whether that machinery is made to operate so efficiently it will turn out the best possible products.

Educational opportunity shouldn't be denied to anyone. The report to the OEA does not advocate a Soviet-like control in which the school system would decide whether students would be forced to continue studying or forced to quit school and do something else.

It simply recommends that a student be permitted to quit school after he is 16 years old if the school, the home and the student, himself, are convinced he would thereby make a larger contribution to his own well-being and his community's.

That seems a wiser and more democratic course than forcing him to waste two more years of his and others' time.

The Old Stalin Pattern

By EARL H. VOSS

Government experts on the Soviet Union are now developing a new theory that the center of Kremlin power has shifted from the 14-member Presidium of the Communist party to a larger circle of leaders in the 133-member Central Committee.

There are two theories among students of Soviet affairs on the present position of Nikita S. Khrushchev in the wake of the ouster of Zhukov.

One is that Khrushchev as removed the last important obstacle in his path to becoming another Stalin.

The other is that Khrushchev has not yet succeeded to that extent, that he is not using the secret police as Stalin did and that he had been forced to rely heavily on support from the party for moving against his rivals.

BEFORE LAST JUNE the Presidium of the Communist party had been considered the real seat of power in the Soviet Union.

But the Presidium presumably suffered a great setback in prestige in mid-June, just after Khrushchev lost his majority there at a crucial moment.

The Presidium reportedly decided in mid-June to remove him from the position of first secretary of the party. But Khrushchev was able to appeal the Presidium decision to the Central Committee and have it reversed.

The banishment of Molotov, Malenkov, Kaganovich and Shepilov followed. There is evidence that the Central Committee also played a key role in the Zhukov removal.

One explanation could be that the power circle in the Kremlin has expanded to the point that the Central Committee is the main decision-making body.

Few Washington students of Soviet affairs would conclude that all 133 members of the committee have equal influence.

They believe it more likely that regional party chiefs whom Khrushchev has brought in and some central party secretaries wield most of the power.

But officials felt that Khrushchev still needs the support of the Central Committee before he can move.

Experts here would like to know whether he rigged the Central Committee debate well in advance, or whether there was a genuine debate in which the committee formed its opinions "on the floor."

Many are inclined to think Khrushchev has some key men in the Central Committee on whom he can rely in all circumstances but that there are others whom he must persuade.

Always A Chance

By TRUMAN TWILL

There is always a chance that everybody might quit fudging and mulling formalities.

The speaker who purrs that he is glad to be in Podunk and hopes to return soon might get down to the truth as follows:

"Before I start to sing for my supper, let me set some facts straight. I am not glad to be here. I think this is a crummy town. I am unfavorably impressed by my sponsor, who is, in turn, equally impressed by me. But I am the best he could do with the meager stipend he was offering. When this performance is over, which will be as soon as I can make it be over, I hope never to see this dump again. If I were in your place, I'd get out of here right now. It's all right with me. I have been paid and meager as it is I intend to earn not more than one-tenth of it by reading a so-so speech I never had the guts to try out on the dog before."

The visiting dignitary who is being shown the sights of the city may get tired of oh-ing and ah-ing and snap:

"I don't know what you local firemen are trying to prove by dragging me around your fire-trap. It seems to me you would be better off if you hired the Le Tourneau outfit to come in here with a bulldozer yea big and pushed this whole mess into the closest ravine. In that event, I would be impressed with your civic-mindedness. As it is, I am just another weary old party who would prefer to hole up in that nest you call a hotel for a little shuteye. Suppose we head back for the barn and take off the parade trappings. I have seen enough to make me sick at my stummick."

The dinner guest who has been tagged for a festive occasion may get rid of his inhibitions and croak:

"I do not choose to run off at the mouth. This is the third one of these affairs I have been dragged to in three nights. My head aches and my stomach is churning. My condition has not been helped any by the soggy canapés. I could have done better with a package of K-rations. While I find nothing objectionable in the other guests, I am sure they would be happier under the circumstances if I lit out of here and went home to hit the foam. For once, I will need no sleep pill. I am bored glassy-eyed and will be lucky to stay awake long enough to drive home."

And the host and hostess whose feet are killing them may blurt the truth while receiving the acknowledgments of their parting guests:

"Cut it short, Buster. The only reason we had the party was to get squared away on our obligations. You were last and least on the list, and the only reason you were included was to offset the ravages of the Asian flu. You have your hat. You have your coat. You have stuffed yourself with everything you could mow down. The party is over. Spare the palaver and hit the road. We took the bitter with the sweet but we do not want to linger over it. Scram."

Once everybody got used to it, the truth would not be half so shocking as it would be the first few times around. If it did nothing else, it would eliminate a lot of confusion about what's what and what's next.

Help For Potteries

The Salem China Company and other district potteries are being joined in their fight for protective tariff by an organization known as the Nationwide Committee on Import-Export Policy.

The association, meeting earlier this week at Pittsburgh, set the wheels in motion for a vigorous campaign to increase the tariff rates on cheap imports which have cut sharply into the American firms' own markets.

The potteries, which have been waging an uphill battle against foreign imports, are encouraged now that their pleas for assistance will be augmented by loud cries from some of the larger industries.

Our potteries need tariff protection. The advocates of free trade may have their own good motives but when cheap imports hurt local business more and more it's time for the United States Tariff Commission, the President and Congress to make a new appraisal of the situation.

You Gotta Win

Ohio State's football players, says their coach, were being much too happy while preparing for the big game with Michigan. "Football is not a happy game," he pointed out. "It is a mean game. You have to be mean."

Meanwhile, commenting on the biggest livestock swap of many years in baseball, the manager of the Detroit Tigers said the players he was shipping to Kansas City were "nice fellows" but they had to go intended to win.

The moral? You gotta win. If you can't win, you gotta try. And if you know you cannot win, you gotta go through the motions of trying. And whether you win, or whether you lose, you gotta be mean. You gotta make it look good for the fans.

If some of this has a strange sound in a

Once Over

Looks like Uncle Sam will get your taxes to the moon before he gets anything else there. Style hint to taxpayers for 1958-60: Get yourself a stratospheric survival suit complete with oxygen helmet. Ballistic pocketbook pulverizers are ahead. Look for three types of super-tax weapons:

1. The Long Range Indiscriminate Skinner.
2. The Intermediate Sockeroo Special.
3. The All-Distance Shellacker and Multiple Mauler.

ANY ONE OF 'EM will locate a taxpayer, pin him down and mop up in one operation. TKHE OUTLOOK IS FOR AN INCOME tax blank jet-propelled and able to reach any income anywhere and leave it a shambles. No defense against it, except the atomic check-stub and the usual old-fashioned head-ache powders.

We may save ourselves in the battle for survival but can we save our shirts? The colder the war the more overheated we must get in facing it. With future at stake all Americans will take an extra tax clip good-naturedly.

Provided they can make deductions for air-sickness, high-altitude dizziness and cosmic ray burns in the threatened Battle of Outer Space Taxation

IKE STILL INSISTS entire categories in present Federal spending will have to be cut or deferred. But next big ruckus you hear will be the anti-cut, anti-trim and anti-deferment groups swining into action as they gird for adequate defense with one hand and for Federal aid to roller coasters and government supports for de luxe ski slides with the other!

It's a cockeyed world. Even nations dedicated to peace bristle with concealed weapons. We're in an age when even Uncle Sam bitterly opposed to war, has to work overtime for weapons to bump off millions.

All over the world the words We must get along together are telescoped hourly by country that talks about sports in terms of good clean fun and good clean play, it is because some strange things have been happening to sportsmanship in the minds of coaches and managers who get fired if their teams lose. They talk too much, for one thing.

Roads For Tomorrow

Still further evidence for the case that all new highways being built in the federal interstate system should be engineered to the highest standards, not the lowest, is offered in Fleet Owner, a magazine for the trucking industry.

Interstate roads, the magazine explains, should be capable of carrying military vehicles in event of war. Some of these already are too large to travel on the best modern roads. The recent experience of transporting a rocket from the West Coast to Florida by truck showed the necessity of eliminating sharp curves and narrow bridges.

Fleet Owner proposes that while the new highways are still in the planning stage careful attention should be given to raising even the highest specifications for design, instead of toying with the dangerous idea of building them to minimum standards, a proposal recently made by a committee of county engineers in Ohio.

We (Russia and U. S.) must work together in the field of science . . . in the years to come . . . then we may look back and say how foolish we were not to have worked together sooner.

—Vasily V. Kuznetsov, Soviet deputy foreign minister.

The Soviet armed forces . . . are at present strong as never before.

—Soviet Defense Minister Marshal Rodion Malinovsky.

By H. I. Phillips

"I can lick any man in the house." Civilization, take it from here.

A MAGISTRATE says people who brush off parking tickets are often emotionally disturbed, and suffer from inflated egos. We still think they're plain scofflaws. . . . K.K.T. says there was one mobster missing after that roundup of 67 at a rural outdoor steak barbecue, and it was probably some hood who wasted two bags of charcoal before he got the fire started. . . . N.L.R.B. has ruled an employer unfair for cutting out a coffee hour it has itself instituted.

Violation of Taft-Hartley Act, the board says, let alone the Taft-Brazil and Taft-How-Many-Lumps Act. . . . Maybe what Mr. Meany is trying to tell the suspended Bakers Union is that they can't have their cake and eat it, too.

CHIEF OF A FEDERAL division of U.S. Labor Department says figures prove that in 477 job classifications women perform as well as men. Women workers in middle age have greater reserves of endurance and recover from fatigue faster. This sort of report will make lazy husbands more indolent than ever. Gals also have better absentee records. . . . (The percentage of husbands who tell a wife "Get up and go to work. What's a little thing like a headache?" is growing. In only one category did gals prove inferior, Labor Dept. says.)

This was as locomotive engineers. Well, a woman in a locomotive passing through a new shopping area can be a terrible risk. . . . Folks are still yacking over prison sentence (and the concurrent type, too) instead of the firing squad for top Russian spy stealing U.S. secrets for a decade.

Concurrent sentences mean that a fellow serves only one of them. GI's who offer lives to defend country don't get three years, all to be served in one. And there is no such thing as a concurrent heroism which boils it all down to a brief display of guts.

Looking Backward

5 YEARS AGO — Mrs. William Simpson and Mrs. Dora Irey were hostesses for the dessert luncheon of the Bethlehem Class of the Methodist Church Thursday. Mrs. Blaine McCluskey arranged the program which was presented by Mrs. Olive Whinnery, Mrs. Cora Smith, and Mrs. Cecil Baxter.

10 YEARS AGO — Mrs. F. J. Stoudt, Miss Eleanor McMurray, Mrs. Fred Capel, Mrs. Walter Bailey, Mrs. Nelson Bailey and Mrs. John Sharp of the Methodist Church were in Carrollton Wednesday to attend an educational seminar.

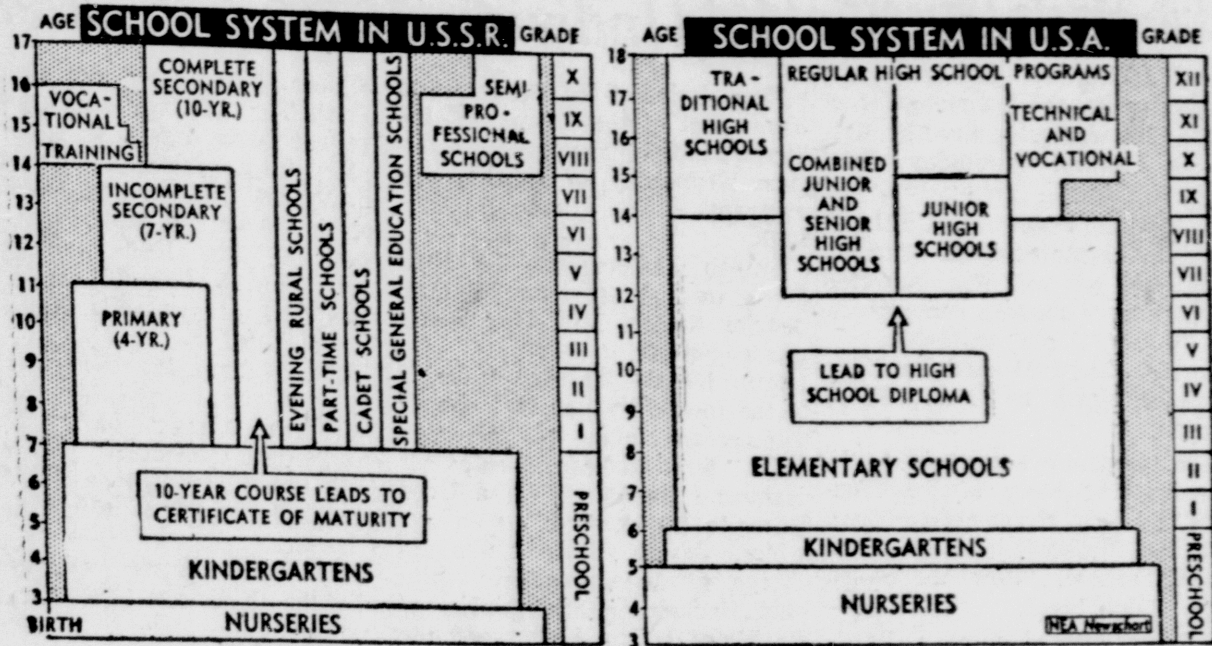

Miss Amelia Schuller of S. Lincoln Ave. left today for Ft. Myers, Fla., to spend the winter.

25 YEARS AGO — George Ruggy of Columbus will spend Thanksgiving Day with his mother, Mrs. Rex Ruggy of E. 3rd St. Misses Adelaide and Grace Dyball, students at Ohio University at Athens, are spending the weekend with their mother, Mrs. Grace Dyball of E. 3rd St.

40 YEARS AGO — Misses Zilla and Ella Stamp of Depot St. are spending the weekend with relatives at Zanesville.

IF YOU WENT TO SCHOOL IN RUSSIA . . .

You would attend school six days a week, spend 53% of your time studying science, have up to four hours a night homework.

In 4th, 7th and 10th grades you must pass nationally controlled examinations in order to be advanced.

You must participate in "voluntary" extra-curricular work activities decided by state.

After secondary school, if qualified, you may continue education financed by state. There is room only for 30% of graduates, however.

How do the Russians do it? Americans now have a personal interest in the Russian school system. Contrasts in educational philosophy and methods between the U.S.S.R. and U. S. A. are illustrated above, based on a two-year study by the U. S. Office of Education. Chart, upper left, shows that normal secondary education in the Soviet Union begins a year later and ends a year earlier than in the United States. This 10-year program, in contrast to the American 12-year one, however, is carried on six days a week for 210 to 213 days a year. The Russian school child is given a much heavier grounding in mathematics and science than his American counterpart, and following the 10-year course, inducements are offered to him to specialize in certain fields of science deemed necessary by the state. This is reflected in the fact that the Soviet Union graduates 80,000 engineers yearly, as against 30,000 in the United States. Also on the secondary level, there are separate schools for rural and working youths and cadets. Vocational and semiprofessional training are available following the incomplete, or seven-year, school. As in America, the goal is universal education, but in Russia it is controlled by the Communist party which maintains strict surveillance over teacher and student. There are no elective courses in the pre-college school system. Partly philosophy pervades every level, and only those found qualified and worthy by the state are permitted to seek higher education.

Guarding Your Health

By DR. EDWIN P. JORDAN
Postnasal Drip

Mrs. R. and others have asked about an ailment which is particularly common in the colder months of the year and is characterized by hawking, spitting and excessive mucus in the nose. This symptom was formerly called catarrh, defluxion or rheum. Now it is most commonly called "postnasal drip."

It is a disagreeable symptom produced by the formation of mucus in the nose which drips down into the back of the throat and upper breathing tubes. This result in irritation requiring constant clearing of the throat with bringing up of small quantities of mucus.

It is not a true disease since it can be produced by any one of several causes. Among those which have been mentioned are central heating, smoking, alcohol, changes in external temperature, dust, irritating fumes, germs, structural abnormalities, foreign bodies and emotional disturbances.

The question is often asked whether swallowing this nasal secretion will harm the stomach. Judging from what is known of the nature of the mucus and the ability of the stomach to overcome what is in it, it is believed that only a stomach which is already abnormal would be likely to suffer from swallowing such mucus.

Likewise, the danger from postnasal drainage to the lower part of the respiratory tract, which includes the bronchi and lungs, is ordinarily slight.

Among the causes for postnasal drip, central heating is important. Heated rooms are often so lacking in moisture that there is abnormal evaporation of water from the nasal passages. This thickens the mucus and makes the normal processes of its removal satisfactory.

In fall, winter and spring, there are abrupt and extreme changes in temperature which may occur several times a day as a person walks out of doors and back into a centrally heated home or office. These changes cause contraction and enlargement of the blood vessels in the nose. They are in turn accompanied by changes in the amount and nature of the nasal secretions, thus allowing their accumulation in the throat.

The irritating effects of tobacco smoking, dust, fumes and germs are obvious.

A postnasal drip is probably the result of conditions of modern living, some of which cannot be easily changed. It is a response to irritation which can be overcome only by removing the cause, or causes.

Though it is somewhat uncomfortable and annoying, it should not cause worry as the consequences are rarely dangerous. If you are going to have a general anesthetic, however, you should tell the doctor about it.

Man From Stark County Co-Winner of Award

CLEVELAND (AP)—Glen R. Lebold of Bolivar, in Tuscarawas County, and Ralph E. Lautzenheiser of Louisville, Stark County, are co-winners of the northern Ohio "Farmers of the Year Award."

They will be guests of the Cleveland Farmers Club at a banquet tonight which will mark the beginning of national Farm-City week. Gov. C. William O'Neill is scheduled to be the main speaker.

Both Lebold and Lautzenheiser are 37 years old and both are fathers of three children.

Lebold, a Sunday School superintendent for 15 years, is president of the county farm bureau and a federal government crop reporter.

Lautzenheiser is a director of the Stark County Farm Bureau Cooperative Assn. and a director of the Northeast Ohio Poultry Assn.

Two Ohio Farmers Get Annual Awards

CLEVELAND (AP)—Congratulations from Gov. C. William O'Neill and applause from a banquet audience of 500 went Friday night to two northern Ohio farmers who won the grand prizes in the 15th annual awards program of the Cleveland Farmers' Club.

The two 37-year-old winners are Glenn Lebold of Bolivar, a Tuscarawas County beef cattleman, and Ralph E. Lautzenheiser of Louisville, a Stark County corn grower.

Stockholders to Vote On Merger of 3 Firms

DOVER, Ohio (AP)—Stockholders will vote within the next two months on a plan to merge steel companies at Bridgeville, Pa., and Mansfield and Dover, Ohio, into a single firm with assets of about $5 million dollars and 5,500 employees.

The three firms, which in 1956 had combined sales of approximately $112 million dollars and net income of about $6,700,000, are: Universal - Cyclops Steel Corp. of Bridgeville, which has a new stainless steel strip plant under construction at Coshocton, Ohio, and produces stainless and high temperature steel.

Empire Steel Corp. of Mansfield, a basic producer of hot and cold rolled carbon and silicon strips and sheets.

Reeves Steel & Manufacturing Co. of Dover, maker of galvanized steel sheets and roofing.

Directors of the three firms have approved the merger. The plan is for creation of the Empire-Reeves Steel Corp., headed by Donald W. Frase, Empire's president, to operate as a wholly owned subsidiary of Universal-Cyclops. Arthur J. Kantz, Reeves president, would be board chairman of the subsidiary.

Teachers Favor Compulsory Education Until Age of 18

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Education Assn. (OEA) has decided it is in favor of the law making schooling compulsory until age 18.

But the association's 80 delegates in convention voted Friday night to recommend dropping pupils older than 16 who are "indifferent" to school.

The organization will ask the State Board of Education to consider adoption of regulations to permit "excusing" pupils over 16 for indifference.

The recommendation also called for possible legislative action to get the "excuse" provision written into law.

For almost an hour, the delegates debated a proposal by Harold Shurlow, Columbus high school teacher, to seek reduction in the compulsory attendance age from 18 to 16.

The proposal finally was rejected.

Also considered was action to make association membership contingent on holding at least a provisional teaching certificate or university degree.

Currently members in the professional organization of the state's public school teachers are required merely to be "engaged in the profession of education."

Earlier, delegates approved a new code of ethics, revised particularly with a view to making it enforceable.

L. O. Weiss, Akron, failed in an attempt to delete from the code a provision declaring that a teacher, "remembering his primary responsibility to the pupil, rejects the strike as a means for the achievement of professional objectives."

Jury Convicts Rutherford Of Slaying Man

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Richard Rutherford, 24-year-old Wheeling Island, W. Va., resident, faces the death penalty after being convicted of first degree murder in the robbery-slaying of a pool room operator.

Jury of nine men and three women deliberated six hours Friday night and found Rutherford guilty on two counts—murder during a robbery and premeditated murder. They did not recommend mercy. The death penalty, which the prosecution asked, is therefore mandatory.

Rutherford was accused of fatally beating Lawrence Price, 30, outside the latter's home in nearby Bridgeport in the early morning hours of Aug. 13.

The defense tried to prove the killing was unintentional. Rutherford himself took the stand to admit he struck Price on the head with an unknown object found at the scene but that he didn't mean to kill him.

The defendant testified he robbed Price of $500.

But Robbery wasn't the only motive. Testimony in the five-day trial in Belmont County Common Pleas Court indicated that Rutherford was jealous of attentions to his girl friend by Price.

The defense has three days to file a new trial motion. Rutherford won't be sentenced until a hearing is held on such a motion, if one is filed.

GRANTED PROBATION

LISBON — At a probation hearing Friday afternoon, Charles M. Clark, 25, of Keithburg, Ill., who was secretly indicted by the September Grand Jury for non-support and who pleaded guilty at arraignment day and asked for probation, was granted probation by Judge Joel H. Sharp.

Clark was out on $500 bond pending a hearing on probation.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Zehentbauer

Hawkins-Zehentbauer Vows Spoken In Dungannon Church

Paul Zehentbauer and his bride are honeymooning in Florida. Upon their return, they will make their home in Dungannon. The couple was married Nov. 16 at 10:30 a.m. in St. Philip Neri Church at Dungannon.

The bride is the former Betty Jo Hawkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hawkins of the Franklin Road. The bridegroom is a son of Joseph and the late Marie Zehentbauer.

Rev. R. Buchman of St. Philip Neri Church officiated at the High Mass. Fred and Robert Hipple of Salem served as altar boys, and Miss Anna Haessly of Dungannon presided at the organ.

George Hagan and Daniel Furey sang "On This Day O Beautiful Mother" as the bride placed a bouquet on the side altar, and "O Lord I'm Not Worthy," during communion.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of rosepoint lace over satin. It was fashioned with a sabrina neckline, long pointed sleeves, elongated bodice and a full skirt with chapel train. Her veil of illusion was attached to a tiara of seed pearls and brilliants.

Mrs. Thomas Jensen of Salem was matron of Honor. Carol Hawkins, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Russell Gulling of Louisville, the bridegroom's sister, were bridesmaids. The gowns in two shades of blue were styled with velvet bodices and full nylon chiffon skirts. They wore matching velvet headbands with circular veils and carried bouquets of pink carnations and white chrysanthemums.

Authorities Plan To Open Graves To Check Ghoulish Story of Ed Gein

To Check Ghoulish Story of Ed Gein

WAUTOMA Wis. — Authorities plan to open as many as four graves Monday to check the ghoulish story of Edward Gein, who admits slaying two women and pillaging at least nine graves.

Dist. Atty. Earl Kileen met Friday night in Plainfield with three other officials to discuss opening graves in Plainfield Cemetery one of two burial grounds Gein said he looted of female remains.

Meanwhile Gein sits in the Waukesha County Jail at Wautoma awaiting a 30 days' mental test.

Circuit Judge Herbert A. Bunde Friday ordered Gein sent to the Central State Hospital for the Criminally Insane to determine whether Gein is competent to stand trial on a first degree murder charge.

To Determine Sanity

The hospital staff psychiatrists also will seek to determine whether Gein was sane Nov. 16 the date of the mutilation slaying of Mrs. Bernice Worden. The 58-year-old Plainfield widow was one of the two women the 51-year-old bachelor said he killed after observing they resembled his late mother.

Kileen said Gein would remain in the County Jail here three or four more days because authorities of other counties wish to question the man about missing persons.

The only disappearance connected to Gein is that of Mrs. Mary Hogan 54-year-old Bancroft tavern operator who vanished Dec. 3 1954. He admitted killing her.

Arrested Week Ago

Gein was arrested a week ago tonight after Mrs. Worden's decapitated and eviscerated body was found hanging by the heels in a shed at the rear of Gein's secluded farm house seven miles from Plainfield.

The trail, 140-pound handyman admitted slaying her earlier that day and said he killed and slaughtered Mrs. Hogan in a similar fashion.

Ten skulls, one of them tentatively identified as Mrs. Hogan's, were found in the filthy, cluttered rooms Gein occupied on the first floor of the sagging, weathered farm house.

Gein insisted nine of the heads came from graves he robbed in the Plainfield Cemetery and the Spiritland Cemetery in Waukesha County.

Kileen said that one of the graves which will be opened is that of Mrs. Eleanor Adams, the only woman identified from the list of nine women whose graves Gein claimed he violated.

Kileen said he would not identify any of the other graves to be inspected, saying, "We will try to do this in a painless way."

Kileen said that if the first two graves opened failed to show mutilation of the corpses, there would be no further exhumations.

Beaver Creek Club Plans Shoots Sunday

The Beaver Creek Sportsman Club of Washingtonville will hold a turkey shoot at 1 p.m. Sunday followed by a trap shoot on the club grounds.

The club will furnish shells for the turkey shoot. Shooters may use either their own or club shells for the trap shoot.

LOOKING FOR MAYOR

GEORGETOWN, Ohio — The nearby village of Hamersville is still looking for a mayor. Village officials said Friday that the $50-year job is vacant because Mayor Garland Bolender didn't seek re-election and Woody Gray received enough write-in votes Nov. 5 but refused to take the job.

TRAFFIC DEATHS UP

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Traffic deaths for the first nine months of 1957 increased 4 per cent over that same period of 1956, the Department of Highway Safety reported Friday. Traffic accidents and injuries declined during September by 1½ and 1 per cent, respectively, as compared with that month in 1956.

Kitchens Division Employees Active In U.S. Bond Purchases

Employees of the Youngstown Kitchens Division of American Standard Corp. have purchased more than $65,000 worth of U.S. Savings Bonds since the bond program was initiated nearly 15 years ago.

C. D. Alderman, Division president, reported today.

Now taking part in the "Share in America" program that the U.S. Treasury department and the Youngstown Junior Chamber of Commerce are sponsoring, many Youngstown Kitchens employees are stepping up their savings by buying bonds through payroll deduction. Nearly 60 per cent of the company's employees are now "signed up" to buy bonds by this method and others are being encouraged to join the plan.

"We believe in the U.S. Savings Bond program," C. D. Alderman, Division president, said today. "It's encouraging to know that so many of our people are investing in bonds and building their savings."

Prizes were awarded Mrs. Curt Ward, Mrs. Cecil Bennett, Mrs. Donald Murphy.

Since Mrs. Curt Ward will soon be moving to Cincinnati, the club presented her with a going away gift.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Wilson, formerly of Winona, have moved from North Ellsworth Ave. in Salem to 151 Jennings Ave.

Mrs. George Pyle from Chicago is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. William Weston.

New lock boxes have been installed for all patrons of the Winona Post Office.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Fire Department met Monday evening with Mrs. Robert Ward.

Officers elected were: President, Mrs. William Heacock; vice president, Mrs. George Earl Walton; secretary, Mrs. Calvin Rummel; and treasurer, Mrs. James Rhodes Jr.

It has been one year since the ladies formed this organization. In that time they have earned $1,336.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Albert Gamble.

Mrs. Elizabeth Jenkins and Miss Alice Whinnery of Salem called Tuesday on Mrs. Carrie Turner.

Rev. Phelps and his son David were recent dinner guests of his daughter, Gladys at Barborton.

The Green Pastures Organization held a supper meeting at the Methodist Church recently.

Rev. Phelps conducted devotionals. Slides were shown of pasture improvement in this and other counties.

The Haymakers Quartet and an accordion quartet favored with musical numbers.

The Youth Temperance Council met at the home of Ila and Audrey Votaw.

President Jonathan Gamble presided at the business meeting. The discussion was in charge of Ernest Hartley.

Recreation was led by Jonathan Gamble.

Plans were made for a roller skating party for Dec. 9. Refreshments were served.

To Ask About U. S. Missile Plans

West German Minister To Talk With Dulles

WASHINGTON — West German Foreign Minister Heinrich Von Brentano arrived today to discuss with Secretary of State Dulles possible steps to strengthen the North Atlantic Alliance.

Von Brentano told reporters at Washington's National Airport he is convinced his talks with Dulles will be "useful and valuable."

He said he would talk with Dulles mainly about plans for the NATO summit conference in Paris Dec. 16.

The German foreign minister came here by commercial airliner from New York after an overnight transatlantic flight from Rome.

There was no official word what subjects Dulles and Von Brentano might take up first during the one-day visit.

However, the German foreign minister was reported to be interested specifically in getting a definition of U.S. policy with respect to missiles bases in the light of statements made this week by Secretary of Defense McElroy and Dulles.

McElroy made clear that he expects the bases problem to be discussed at the NATO meeting. Dulles, when asked about his upcoming talk with Von Brentano, said the United States did not plan to start its discussions on the missile bases with individual governments.

The Secretary of State said the first U.S. move would be to get advice from Gen. Lauris Norstad, NATO commander in Europe, "as to what he thinks is a sound military disposition to make."

The United States then would talk with individual governments about specific arrangements, Dulles said.

The missiles plan, so far as it has developed, is linked with another American project to establish stockpiles of nuclear weapons in allied countries in Europe, to include warheads for intermediate range ballistic missiles.

Leetonia Lutherans Plan Family Program on Sunday

LEETONIA — A congregational family get-together for every member of St. Paul's Lutheran Church will be held Sunday evening at 7:30 in celebration of the recent successful maintenance fund campaign.

The program will include a hymn singing with the Servicemen's Class in charge. The Deborah Class will be in charge of the entertainment and the Willing Worker's Class will serve refreshments. Visitors are welcome.

MRS. PAUL CASEY entertained at luncheon today in honor of her daughter Mary Ann's 11th birthday and her son Eddie's seventh birthday. The non-ninth birthday. Games and conees received gifts. The hostess served refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Edgerton and family have returned from a week vacation in Florida.

THOMAS HESS, RD 2, Leetonia, will be the guest speaker when the Leetonia-Washingtonville Kiwanis Club meets Monday evening at 6:10 in the Methodist Church in Washingtonville. He will bring a message of "Thanksgiving" to the group.

Mrs. Richard Roosevelt left by plane Wednesday to visit her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Murphy and son in New York City, N.Y.

"Christian Giving" will be the lesson subject at St. Paul's Lutheran Church Sunday at 9:30 a.m. "The Back Seat Christian" will be the topic of the sermon at the worship service at 10:45. The Junior Department and the choir will furnish the anthem, "Prayer of Thanksgiving."

The Confirmation Class will meet with the Pastor in the church parlor at 6 p.m.

The Hub-Wi Club will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Less this evening. Five hundred will be enjoyed.

Rev. William L. Woodall's sermon Sunday at the Presbyterian Church will be "The Power of Thanks."

Brokaw Issues Ruling On Petition Dispute

LISBON — In an opinion issued to County School Superintendent James L. McBride, Friday, County Prosecutor G. William Brokaw ruled it is possible for a person who has signed a petition of transfer of territory from one school district to another to remove his name by later signing a counter petition.

McBride had requested the ruling from the prosecutor after a number of such instances arose in petitions and counter-petitions for transfer of territory from the county school system.

The prosecutor quoted several sections of the Ohio General Code and a number of rules issued in previous cases.

The gist of the opinion in the prosecutor's words follows: "It is therefore my opinion that it is possible for a person who has signed a petition for transfer of territory from one school district to another under the provision of Section 3311.23 of the revised code, as it now stands, to, in effect, remove his name therefrom by means of later signing a so-called counter-petition."

"This opinion is assuming the proposition that in each case in which counter-petitions have been filed that they are so worded as to fairly evince the intent of the signers of said counter-petitions to revoke their earlier signatures; and is further assuming that the counter-petitions were filed with the County Board of Education within 60 days following the filing of the original petitions and before any official action was taken or has been taken by the County Board of Education."

Defense

It was in cross-examining Arrington about the shooting that Navarre drew a pistol from under his coat and fired a blank at his assistant.

Question Navarre

A newsman later questioned Navarre for the reason behind this bit of courtroom strategy.

"Actually it was done in preparation for our defense," Navarre replied. "I'm not at liberty now to disclose the reason behind it because it would give away our defense unfolds."

Arrington, in his testimony, said he "turned and ran" immediately after the shot and ostensibly was not around to determine if Conner was dead.

The witness said the dispute leading up to the shooting was over a missing gun.

He said Forsythe got no response when he demanded of Conner three times: "Where's my gun?"

Tells of Shooting

The defendant then shouted: "Damn it, I mean it!" and fired with a "big black gun," Arrington related.

Prosecutor Bowers told the jury that Forsythe dumped Conner's body into a station wagon and drove to Cadiz. He said the body disappeared in that area and the state has yet to locate it.

Cadiz, near the Ohio River, is on the other side of the state from Lima.

The trial resumes Monday.

Coin Flips Break Election Ties for Two Rural Posts

The election of Norman Wright and Manuel Pike as Middleton Township trustees was confirmed Friday night when a recount of votes in the Rogers precinct failed to change the result of the Nov. 5 election, the County Election Board said today.

Pike and Carl H. Daiger, another unsuccessful candidate, each lost one vote in the recount requested by Roland Gorby of Negley, incumbent trustee who lost out in his bid for a new term, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said.

Gorby's total of 14 votes in the precinct remained unchanged. He needed to gain only one vote to have a "free" recount since the law provides no charge if there is a change of 4 per cent in his vote.

He was charged the minimum of $5 and will receive a refund of $5 on the $10 bond he posted when asking the recount, O'Hanlon said.

The final vote total in the race showed Wright 201, Pike 200, Gorby 158, Daiger 129, Lester G. Warner and Donald Williams 81 and R. D. Huff 73.

Two ties resulting from the Nov. 5 election have been broken by coin tosses, O'Hanlon continued.

Edwin Dickey won the toss and a seat on the Rogers Village Council over Mrs. Marge Green after both received five write-in votes for the sixth seat.

Another flip named Roy Ewing as Wayne Township constable, the clerk said. Roy Ewing, Norman Day, James Ewing and John Hull each received one write-in vote to set the stage for the tie-breaking toss. Hull notified the board before the flip, however, that he did not want to be considered.

The board also discussed plans to create 13 additional precincts in the county, but postponed action until after another recount scheduled Tuesday night at 8.

Edward W. Oliver of Sebring, one of two candidates apparently defeated in a four-way contest for a two-year term on the Mahoning Local Board of Education, asked the recount of the vote in five Columbiana County precincts that are part of the Mahoning School District.

He posted a $50 bond for a recount of votes in the north precinct of Butler Township, and the southeast, southwest, northeast and northwest precincts of Knox Township.

Farmers are expected to discuss among themselves and with legislators such questions as the effect of the St. Lawrence Seaway, better rural mail delivery, farm program, federal marketing orders, foreign trade regarding agricultural commodities, gradual elimination of government support program, revised soil bank and special assistant to low-income farmers.

AP Managing Editors Winding Up Meeting

NEW ORLEANS — The Associated Press Managing Editors Assn. prepared to wind up its annual convention today with another workshop session and look into the future.

Dr. Fred Whipple director of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory at Cambridge Mass. was scheduled to speak on "Our Scientific Progress and the Future."

The APME named Coleman Harwell of the Nashville Tennessee Register and Tribune. Other new officers included Michael J. Ogden of the Providence (R.I.) Journal-Bulletin vice president; John H. Colburn of the Richmond (Va.) Times-Dispatch secretary; and George R. Shoals of the Rochester (N.Y.) Democrat and Chronicle treasurer.

The main purpose of the committee is to improve AP news newsphoto and feature services.

WINS FLIP OF COIN

WILMINGTON, Ohio — The flip of a coin has made Harry Nunn, an independent, a Wilmington city councilor. The coin, tossed by Election Board chairman H.A. Metzger, gave the post to Nunn over Democrat Earl McDermott, breaking a 240-240 deadlock that existed since Wednesday after a McDermott-sponsored recount.

The first Election Board count gave Nunn 244 votes and McDermott 241.

Schools Merge Teams

Fairfield-Waterford Cagers Will Open Season On Nov. 26

The New Waterford Trojans and the Fairfield Comets are no longer separate basketball teams. The schools combined their forces this year into a squad called the Fairfield-Waterford Rebels.

The schools merged their football units last year.

Coach Ktn Woods, in his third year at New Waterford, has assumed the responsibility of effecting a compatible union of the two clubs.

Last season, Waterford won the Columbiana County Class A title. They will get their chance to defend it starting Tuesday at Western Reserve High. The game is the first of 17 scheduled by the combined cage squad.

Fairfield-Waterford will play their first home game Dec. 3 with North Lima. All told, the team will engage 10 home foes and seven on the road.

THE OVERALL STRENGTH

Fairfield will add to Waterford is not known yet. Last season, the Comets won only four of 20 contests.

Waterford, on the other hand, had an 18-5 record. It brought Woods' three year total to 38-8.

Woods will be hard pressed this campaign to replace all five of his regulars lost through graduation. They are Ron Sesachrist, Tom Bowker, Al Rupert, Dewey Brown and Ron Costanzo. Another top player gone from the scene is Ron Dicken.

Of 14 boys vying for starting berths this season, only one is over six feet tall. That is Bob Cope, a 6-1 junior.

Other starting positions are being sought by such seniors as Bill Baker, 5-10; Chuck Olmhausen, 6; Bill Gorbey, 6; Lou Groupert, 5-10 and Ollie Cooper, 5-10.

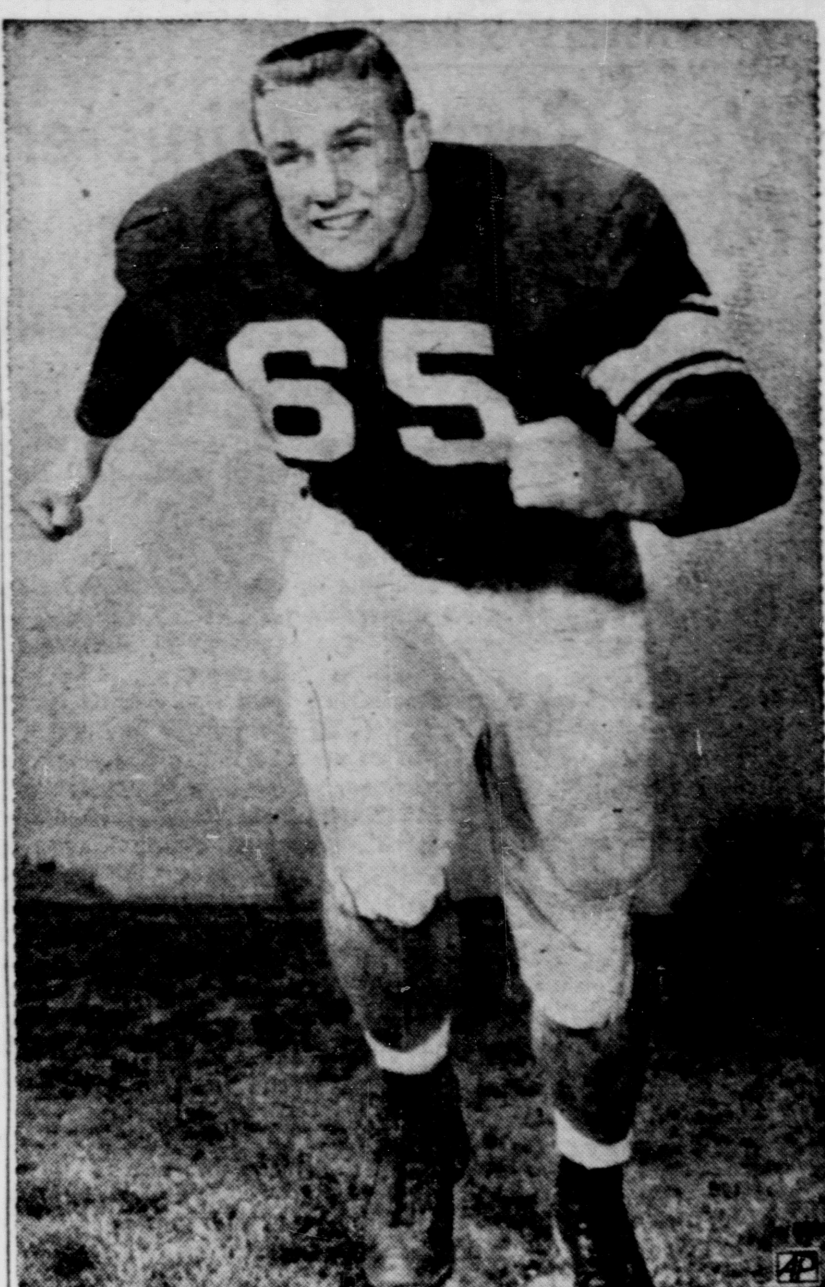

Three juniors also figure in the picture. They are 5-10 Joe Cost-anzo, 5-8 Bob Guy and 5-9 Dave Groubert.

JIM OLHAUSEN AT 5-9. Lee Chamberlain at 5-10 and Jerry Arthur at 6, all sophomores, complete Woods' roster of candidates.

Walter "Bing" Newton, who coached at Fairfield last year, will assist Woods.

The schedule is as follows: Nov. 26 Western Reserve, away. Dec. 3 North Lima, home. Dec. 10 Leetonia, home. Dec. 13 Salineville, away. Dec. 17 Greenford, home. Dec. 20 North Beaver Twp., home. Jan. 3 Springfield, away. Jan. 4 Goshen, home. Jan. 10 Malvern, home. Jan. 17 Salineville, home. Jan. 18 Lowellville, home. Jan. 21 North Lima, away. Jan. 24 Canfield, away. Jan. 28 Greenford, away. Jan. 31 Berlin Center, home. Feb. 4 Goshen, away. Feb. 8 Atwater, home.

CHRISTIAN FOOTBALLER — Oklahoma University guard Bill Krisher likes his football but doesn't believe foul language belongs on the football field. His remedy, when an opponent uses such language: "I smile, say a little prayer for the guy and hit him harder." The All-American candidate is a leader of Oklahoma's "Praying Sooners." They've helped bring the prayer session to college football, the team usually having squad prayers before and after the game and at half time.

Lincoln Way, Mark's Landing, Sekely Win City Cage Tilts

Lincoln Way Service ripped Miller's City's Service 47-24 in a Class B cage tilt played at the Memorial Building Friday night.

In other contests, Mark's Landing defeated John's Pennzill 66-57. Skelly Industrial beat Parker Chevrolet 7-39 and Lisbon Lumber smashed The Diggers 52-34.

Lincoln Way took a 17-4 first quarter lead and was never headed thereafter.

Leonard Batcha tallied 19 points for the winners; Lee Pratt was high scorer for Miller's with eight markers.

Phil Wenner and Bill Darrah paced the winning Mark's team with 16 points each. Gene Kitzmiller tallied 25 markers for the losing John's Pennzill team, and Roger Wyss scored 21 points.

Mark's Landing took a 17-11 lead in the first quarter and held a 30-30 margin at the half. The winners maintained a lead during the entire game.

Salem Youth On Squad

Lack of Rebound Strength Plagues Mt. Union Raiders

Harry Baird of Salem and senior Charlie Kemp are expected to carry much of the scoring punch for the Mt. Union Purple Raiders who will begin their 1957-58 season Dec. 7 at Wittenberg.

Last season Baird finished second among Raiders scorers with 339 points in 25 games. Kemp pocketed 288 points.

Coach George Hunter this season is being plagued by the lack of rebound strength. The Raiders will be without the services of Don "Goose" Talbert this year. Hunter said he wouldn't miss Talbert's scoring but that he would miss his rebound ability.

JACK "GUBER" GOTSCH — a senior letterman, is being counted on to bolster the Mt. Union attack. The Salemite was hampered most of last season with a leg injury.

Dan Richards of Canfield is an-

The Raiders, who were 16-9 in 1956, will again compete in the Ohio Conference.

HUNTER SAID HE expects Wittenberg, Capital and Dennison to be the clubs to beat.

The schedule is as follows:
Dec. 7 Wittenberg
Dec. 11 Kenyon
Dec. 13 Grove City
Dec. 16 American U.
Dec. 19 Case Tech
Jan. 11 Maryland State
Jan. 14 Marietta
Jan. 15 Ohio Wesleyan
Jan. 25 Capital
Feb. 1 Otterbein
Feb. 5 Wooster
Feb. 8 Muskingum
Feb. 12 Heidelberg
Feb. 15 Akron
Feb. 19 Penn
Feb. 22 Denison
Feb. 25 Oberlin
March 1 Geneva
March 5 Hiram

Hunter commented that Mount would go as Roof goes.

The Raider mentor this season will have two capable freshmen performers who he can throw into the lineup. They are Bob McMas-ters of Youngstown South and Dave Brubaker of Ashland. Both these players caused the Quakers a lot of trouble last season.

Mt. Union will play their first home game Dec. 13 against Grove City, Pa.

Calhoun Scores TKO Over Boyd

Bernie Glickman To Protest Match

NEW YORK (AP)—"For the first time in 50 years of managing, my guy knocks out the same fellow twice in one night."

That was the gleeful reaction of Rory Calhoun's manager, Frank Bachman, after Friday night's confusing ending at Madison Square Garden. It was a great night for Bachman, who used to be satisfied when his Maxie Rosenbloom scored his annual knockout.

Calhoun clobbered Bobby Boyd of Chicago with a right to the body and another right to the chin at the start of the second round. Boyd went down. He staggered to his feet at five, fell against the ropes and bounced around the ring as the count went to eight.

Referee Al Berl extended his arms in a motion that the estimated 2,500 fans understood to be the end of the bout.

As Boyd started toward his corner, Berl suddenly wiped off his gloves and waved the boys into action.

Calhoun clouted Boyd on the side of the head with a long right hand punch and down he went again. The count reached three before Berl positively stopped it.

"I was waving Caloun to a neutral corner," said Berl. "I didn't stop it until after the second knockdown." Boyd said the referee told him not to fight anymore, it was all over.

Berl claimed he said nothing to Boyd about stopping the fight.

Bernie Glickman, Boyd's manager, was screaming in the dressing room, ready to protest to the New York State Athletic Commission.

The rhubarb detracted from the performance of Calhoun, who officially was credited with a technical knockout in 25 seconds of the second round of a 10-round match.

Calhoun, the 2 to 1 favorite, weighed 160, Boyd 159 pounds.

The Red and Black will tangle with the Stark County quintet at 8:45 p.m.

Other participants in the pre-season "look-see" will include Leetonia against Lisbon at 7:30 p.m.; Minerva against Columbiana at 8 p.m. and Sebring against Poland at 9:15 p.m.

Each club will play its opponent in two six-minute quarters.

Goshen High Cagers, Parents To Be Feted

All basketball players of Goshen High School, along with their parents, will be guests of the Goshen Booster Club at the group's next meeting at 8 p.m. Dec. 9.

The players and their parents will be shown movies of basketball games.

Boston Writers, Yawkey Blast Scribes For Slighting Williams

BOSTON (AP) — Boston baseball writers, often at odds with Ted Williams, joined Red Sox owner Tom Yawkey today in blasting two unidentified scribes for slighting the 39-year-old slugger.

The Boston writers and Yawkey were fired by the votes of two out-of-town newsmen who listed Williams as 9th and 10th in the balloting for the American League's Most Valuable Player Award.

New York's Mickey Mantle edged Williams for the coveted award, 233 points to 209, on the basis of 14 points for first place, nine for second, eight for third, etc. Three writers in each American League city picked 10 players in order.

Joe Cashman of the Daily Record, whose top choice for the MVP was Williams, said it was "inconceivable" that any informed and experienced writer could select eight or nine more valuable players in the league.

"I can only attribute their action to personal animosity," Cashman said.

Henry McKenna of the Herald, who also selected Williams on top on his ballot, said he was surprised at the two lowly votes.

"I think that something should be done to rectify the situation," McKenna said.

By Hurwitz of the Globe, Boston's third voter in the balloting.

Rangers Post 4-2 Victory Over Hawks

The New York Rangers, rolling along in high gear, led the National Hockey League by four points today. And the Broadway Blues show no signs of cracking.

Trailing by a goal and their every effort turned aside for two periods, the Rangers scored four goals in the final period Friday night to whip the Chicago Black Hawks, 4-2, in the only NHL game of the night.

Ed Litzenberger had scored for the Hawks late in the first period and Chicago goalie Glen Hall had the New Yorkers stymied.

But his string ran out at 1:40 of the finale. The Hawks were a man short when Camille Henry tied it. Then Andy Bathgate put the Rangers ahead at 6:51.

But the Hawks weren't quitting yet. Ted Lindsay made it 2-2 at 9:09. Andy Heberton sent home the winning goal at 16:12 after taking a pass from Red Sullivan.

Bathgate hit an open net for his second tally in the final minute of play.

Quaker Cagers To Vie In Preview Dec. 2

Salem's Quakers cagers will meet the Louisville Leopards in one of four games scheduled in a court preview to be held Dec. 2 at Sebring.

The Red and Black will tangle with the Stark County quintet at 8:45 p.m.

Other participants in the pre-season "look-see" will include Leetonia against Lisbon at 7:30 p.m.; Minerva against Columbiana at 8 p.m. and Sebring against Poland at 9:15 p.m.

Each club will play its opponent in two six-minute quarters.

New York (Madison Square Garden) — Rory Calhoun, 160, White Plains, N.Y., stopped Bobby Boyd, 159, Chicago, 2.

The players and their parents will be shown movies of basketball games.

Warren Giles Retires Goetz As NL Umpire

CINCINNATI (AP) — The National League has retired Larry Goetz of Cincinnati as an umpire.

The colorful, 62-year-old umpire was opposed to the move. He was on leave of absence last season because of illness.

League president Warren Giles said Friday he took the action regretfully and said Goetz "has made a great contribution to the game."

But Giles said that "the life of an umpire is a rugged one and I am firmly convinced that after his unfortunate experience this year and in view of his age, it will be better for Larry and all concerned if he does not umpire."

Goetz, 62, has umpired in the National League for 21 years. He started umpiring back in 1920 and said: "I'll never forget it. Happy Chandler (governor of Kentucky) and I worked together in the old Bluegrass League."

"Happy got fired. Every time we meet, he kids me 'You made good,' he will say. 'I didn't.'"

District Bowlers To Vie In Tourney

Several Salem bowlers are expected to participate in the Columbiana County singles match game championship to be held at the Ranch alleys near Columbiana Nov. 30, Dec. 1 and Dec. 8.

The tournament will use the Peterson Point system. Each bowler gets one point for every 50 pins in qualifying and one for every game won. He'll also receive one point for every 50 pins in the finals.

Bowlers are also entered from Leetonia, Lisbon, New Waterford, East Liverpool, Columbiana and East Palestine.

Guy Ungaro of East Palestine is tournament manager.

Dartmouth Meets Princeton For Ivy League Championship

Tradition, titles and a jinx were and there spiced today's college football schedule, with the Oregon-Oregon State game bundling all three angles in a showdown for the Pacific Coast Conference championship.

Oregon had the edge, and a Rose Bowl berth cinched going into the game with a 6-1 record to Oregon State's 5-2. Oregon also had a 29-23 jump in the 60-game series, which has seen eight ties.

But the Webfoot also butted a jinx, never having claimed an undisputed title, although the three times have shared the crown.

Oregon State, the defending champ and thus barred from a repeat trip to the Rose Bowl, can make it a dual championship again with a victory.

Much the same situation confronted Duke and Dartmouth. The Blue Devils, all but officially named to the Orange Bowl, could clinch the Atlantic Coast Conference title by defeating North Carolina. But if Duke should lose and North Carolina State defeated South Carolina, State would get the crown, although barred from bowl play by the NCA.

Dartmouth, with a 5-0 record, and Princeton (5-1-0) met for the Ivy League championship at Princeton.

Dartmouth was fighting a jinx, too. The Indians defeated Princeton 19-0 last season, but they've whipped the Tigers two in a row only once in their long series, in 1937-38.

Michigan State, top ranked in this week's Associated Press poll, zeroed in on the national championship against Kansas State.

The Spartans needed a whopping score to nail the title, however, since this was their last game and second-ranked Auburn, which played Florida State, has another crack at luring votes next week against Alabama.

Ohio State, No. 3 after snatching the Big 10 title and Rose Bowl ticket by defeating Iowa a week ago, met Michigan in another of those traditional tussles. Iowa faced Notre Dame with the Irish still up from last week's setback still up from last week's upset of Oklahoma, which already has the Big Eight title and Orange Bowl trip cinched.

Other major games today include:

EAST — Penn State-Pitt, Lafayette-Lehigh, Rutgers-Columbia

MIDWEST — Northwestern-Illinois, Purdue-Indiana, Wisconsin-Minnesota, Detroit-Dayton, Iowa State - Colorado, Missouri-Kansas, Houston-Tulsa.

SOUTH — Wake Forest-Clemson, Florida-Georgia Tech, Tennessee-Kentucky, Virginia - Maryland, Syracuse-West Virginia, Mississippi Southern-Alabama, The Citadel-Vanderbilt.

SOUTHWEST — Rice - Texas Christian, Southern Methodist-Baylor, Oklahoma State - Hardin Simmons.

FAR WEST — Washington State-Washington, UCLA-Southern Cal, California-Stanford, Arizona State (Tempe)-College of Pacific.

Big Ten Closes Football Season

Ohio State's Champs To Meet Michigan

By The Associated Press

The Big Ten closes the 1957 football season today with little at stake except prestige in several bitter rivalries and the possibility of a couple of coaches bowing out.

Ohio State's champions (6-0) journey to Ann Arbor to meet Michigan (3-2-1) in one of the midwest's top games and Iowa (4-1-1) close the season at Notre Dame in a regionally televised game (NBC — 2 p.m. EST).

Purdue (3-3) is at Indiana (0-6) in the Old Oaken Bucket tussle. Northwestern (0-5) tangles with Illinois (2-4) and Wisconsin (3-3) moves in on Minnesota (3-4).

Michigan State (5-1), the nation's No. 1 team,

COLUMBIANA

CD Tower Placed On Reserve Basis

COLUMBIANA — Columbia n a Ground Observer Corps, organized in 1954 and established in an observation tower in Firestone Park in 1955, will be put on a reserve basis the first of the year.

All the 278 posts tributary to Canton Filter Center will be subject to monthly or bi-monthly alerts to keep the system in working order. Telephones in observation posts will remain ready for use in an emergency.

Capt. Jams V. Baglie, commander of Canton Filter Center, attributes the relaxation of demands on local observation posts to further perfection and extension of the warning radar network. But reserve sky watchers will be subject to call for 24-hour duty to give "warning and raid recognition of a low-level attack."

THE F. C. RUSSELL CO. has sent a number of people from Columbiana and vicinity to Cleveland for training in its office work to be available when the headquarters offices are moved to Columbiana about the first of the year.

Applications are being received from persons who want work as extra helpers at the Columbiana postoffice during the Christmas season. Applicants must be 18 years old or older.

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT was called at 8 p.m. yesterday to the F. C. Russell Co. at the western edge of town where sparks from a cutting torch had set fire to an exhaust stack on which maintenance men were at work. No one was injured and only minor damage was reported.

MR. AND MRS. William Backus of Sebring, Fla., former Columbiana and Youngstown residents, will observe their 50th wedding anniversary with open house at Valley Golf from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m. Sunday.

William John Backus and Laura E. Queale were married in Kinsman, Nov. 26, 1907. Since his retirement from the U.S. Steel, they have lived in Florida, and previously lived on RD 2, Columbiana.

Mr. Backus is 79 and Mrs. Backus 74. They will be assisted with the observance by their daughters, Mrs. Mildred Roller of East Palestine and Mrs. Helen Coughlin of Columbiana and their son, Paul William Backus of Columbiana. They have four grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

FAIRFIELD-WATERFORD district board of education, meeting at New Waterford School, Thursday evening, hired Harold Baker of East Fairfield to serve as a bus driver in place of Jay Chamberlain, called back into the military service for six months.

Fairfield School has selected Carol Weikart, Joyce Baker and Phyllis McCall as varsity cheerleaders, and Joyce Keslar and Dolly Baker as reserves.

Members of the Columbiana Garden Club and the Village Gardeners were guests at an open meeting of the Green Thumb Garden Club at Young's restaurant Thursday afternoon, when Mrs. Hazel Kirshbaum Alexander of Youngstown talked on Christmas arrangements and gave demonstrations.

The next meeting of the Green Thumb Club will be at the home of Mrs. E. T. Coyne, 410 N. Main St., date to be announced.

COLUMBIANA AUXILIARY of Salem Hospitals, at its meeting in the Methodist Church this week, elected these officers for 1958: Mrs. G. W. Wadelin, president; Mrs. Paul Cline, vice president; Mrs. Thomas Dodds, secretary; Mrs. M. H. Pursifull Sr., treasurer.

Seventeen were present to sew, and made three dozen crib sheets, four dozen large surgical wraps, and hemmed five dozen towels. The next meeting, Monday, Dec. 16, will be a Christmas party with no sewing. A covered dish dinner will be served at noon and there will be a white elephant gift exchange.

Columbiana Man Sues Two Drivers for $5,000

LISBON — A suit asking total damages of $5,000 was filed in Common Pleas Court Friday as the aftermath of a traffic accident.

Robert C. VanFossan of Columbiana RD 2 asks this amount from James Nolan and Robert Varga, both of East Palestine.

The accident happened May 20, 1956, about four and a half miles east of Columbiana on Rt. 14. The plaintiff claims his auto was struck from the rear by both the defendants cars, causing him to sustain personal injuries and property damages.
